REGARDING YOUR SUBMISSION:

- All abstracts must be submitted in English.
- Use only standard abbreviations. Place special or unusual abbreviations in parentheses after the full word the first time it appears.
- You will receive a confirmation via email after you have submitted your proposal.
- All submissions must be completed through the online portal for PREMUS, WDPI, & MYOPAIN 2023 to accept the submissions.
- Proposals submitted by email will not be accepted.
- After the deadline, no changes will be accepted.
- If you are unable to submit proposals via the website, please contact info@premus2023.com
- Abstracts should be submitted in a format ready for publication.
- Please proofread to avoid any typographic or grammatical errors.
- Authors should prepare their abstracts in advance using any standard word processing system, and then 'copy and paste' the elements from the word processing document into the appropriate spaces in the submission system.
- Please do not include author names, references, acknowledgements, figures, images, or tables in your abstract body. There are separate sections for the author list and a figure/table for the abstract.
- A figure/image/table is strongly recommended to be included for workshop, symposium submissions. Omission of a figure/image/table in these categories will lower the score of your abstract during the evaluation process.
- Figures uploaded will not be published but will be reviewed during adjudication.
- All submissions should include the first cycle results. Audits must be completed in time to present interventions and second cycle data at PREMUS, WDPI, & MYOPAIN 2023.
- Work-in-progress is only acceptable for extremely innovative or interesting approaches.
- During the submission process, authors must specify if the abstract was accepted elsewhere and include the date, location and event. This does not disqualify an abstract from being selected.
- Abstracts of published research studies are ineligible for submission.
- You can edit or delete your abstract online at any time before the abstract deadline. If you wish to withdraw your abstract after that date you must inform us in writing via email at info@premus2023.com.
- The Scientific and Educational Competitions Judging Committee reserves the right to re-allocate abstracts submitted to incorrect categories and will notify the submitting author.
- The PREMUS, WDPI, & MYOPAIN 2023 committee reserves the right to change the number of oral sessions, prizes and categories depending on number and strength of submitted abstracts.
- Oral presentations and e-posters would be allowed to be presented in virtual mode (pre-recorded). The presenters would have to attend to answer questions live.

IF YOU ARE ACCEPTED:

- If your abstract is accepted, but you are not selected to present an oral presentation, you will be offered a digital display opportunity.
- Detailed notifications of acceptance and guidelines for presentation will be sent by email (date to be confirmed).
- Presenting authors must be registered and are required to pay the applicable registration fee and all other expenses involved in attending PREMUS, WDPI, & MYOPAIN 2023.

Allow your research to gain some much-deserved visibility. Don't miss the opportunity to promote your research to a wide audience of professional peers globally.
